HOW BURNSIDE FOUND A LANDING -A Washlagton despatch of Monday save that F. B. Rem-Ington, a private of Company A. 30th New York Regiment, now stationed at Upton's Hill, reached there on Monday with a pass from General Burnside, whom he had previously joined by deserting two months since and taken to Richmond, and thence sent to prison in North Carolina. Here he saw extracte published from the Troy papers, where the 30th Regiment was mostly recruited. stating that he was disloyal, having deserted his comrades, and had gone over to the rehels. Determined to resent this imputation on his name, he managed to eccape from Portsmouth, N. C., and needs his way to Norfalk: just failing to get the flower, in which they ask the concurrance of stating that he was disloyal, having deserted his and made his way to Norfolk; but f.iling to get further north, he returned to North Carolina, and was offered employment on the rebel gunhout Fanny, which he was forced to accept, and was employed in surveying inland waters for the rehcls. In connection with another loval man he obtained a small boat and managed to join Gen. Burnslde at Hatteras. It was he who piloted the expedition to the landing place on Roznoke Island, and in no small degree thus contributed to the great victory won by our forces. He joined his regiment on Monday, and then obtained a farlough to return to General Burnside, first visiting his home in Lanelngburg, N. Y. Ilis adventures were listened to with much interest at headquar-

THE EFFECT OF OUR VICTORIES IN EUROPE. The tremendous force recently brought to bear upon the rebellion, and the rapidity with which such heavy blows are given to it, cannot fail to produce a startling effect in Enrope. The agen cies of steam on the railroad and in the ship, with the lightning's wing fishing over the telegraph wire-these agencles of modern civilization-will evidently meke a short and terrible war of what in another age would have lasted for many years. The Governments of the great powers and their newepaper organs will soon find out how much they have been decelved about the strength of the rebellion and the wickedness of the Union. They will discover another thing, and that is that a republic with from ely to seven hundred thou sand victorious soldiers in arms will be a rather cangerons customer to meddle with. Hence they will probably agree to let it alone.

ARMY WORMS -The New Bedford Morcury says: "Mr. John Wing, of this city, informs us that upon a recent visit to Scorton Neck, in East Bandwich, he observed upon a patch of snow in a tield myriads of army worms. They were freezan stiff, so that he could break them like a pipestem. Curious to ascartaln whether heat would and placed it on the mantel-piece over the firin about half an honr the worm had become vi talized and crawied down upon the flagr. PROPOSITION OF THE AGES SOLVED. PROPOSITION OF THE AGES SOLVED.

An intolligent militis, after nine months' drill, can be transformed into trained so'diers and hardy veterane. After the diegraceful and diagations Bull's Run affair it begen to be seriously dombted; and away off betood that torioss of an awful civil war, on this account unsuccessful, there began to loom up in dark and terrible proportions, the spectre of a standing army, of vert proportions, and of unmanageable cost. It was a very fearful vision. If we continued one nation, a standing army of fifty thousand was familiarly written about; if dissevered in the mildet, with only an astrocomical toundary, there were room ecturing how large an army must be constantly Thank (Ind. by the touch of recent evenls, the risinn has been effectually dispelled; we are to be and remein one and indivisible; and the stannel itensism of our volunteers who have rendered this certain, has also proved that we shall require a standing army of not much larger diminish as than haretofore. Mischanter and fermers' sons whose batts are full of nativitiem, and whose winds are full of partial arms. of self-state of barness, and whose states are of soldiers by effective camp-ditil, about as soon as the other appliances of war can be gathered together, and a vigorous campaign organized. We may need a West Point for every ten States, and more than one Navy School, but, by the blessing of Staven a standing army unexal. of Heaven, a standing army, uever!

THE PERMIT SYSTEM .- Under this head th Ciucinnati Gazetto makes the following time-

It is shout time that the Custom-House permi system was abolished. The ratels have been driven so far away, and the avenues of communication are so completely controlled by the Government at the surrances in the second States, that the necessity which led to its adoption no longer exists. Abused though it frequently has been, the merchants have torce it patiently, notvitin-tanding the annoyance it has coused; and the proper that they should be relieved, now that to require boats to take cut clearences. Such regulation se this could be easily complied with. We very cordially second this snggestion.

The rebellion is now to all practical intonts and purposes suppressed in both Kentucky and Missonri. In neither of these States is there longer such "insurrectionary districts" as the law of interdiction or the interdictive order of Sccretary Chase contemplates. The Border Slaveholding States, from the Alleghanics to the Rocky Mountains, are at leugth free iu effect from the curse of revolutionary dominion. Throughout all this grand extent of territory the swey of the nation is re-established. Surely the privileges which belong to this benign swey enght to be allowed to spriog onp benenth its protection, unchecked by restrictions which belong alono to the dark sway that has vanished. The reason for these restrictions has disappeared, and, in our judgement, the restrictions themsolves eight immediately to follow. Justice and expediency alike require it. We commend the subject to the early consideration of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Since writing the pursuraph above we have learned that the Surveyor of the Port of Louisville ba; decided to relax the embarge in respect to certain shipments on the Louisville and Nashville railroad. This decision is eminently discreet and proper. The policy hereby indicated is the right one, and we do not donht that Mr. Secretary Chaso will speedily extend it to the whole Commonwealth. We again commend the propricty of this step to his early consideration.

There will be a pageant, we presume, in hichmend to-day. While the people of the loyal States will be occupied in celebrating tho anniversary of the hirth of George Washington, "tho first in war, the first in peace, and the first in the hearts of his countrymeu," the citizens of the States in rebellion will, as far as represented at the city of Richmond, bo enpaged in the inauguration of Jeff Davis, the first elected President of the retail republic, for thus far ho has held the position by the choice of the convention of broken down hacks and political empiries which assembled at Montgomery, self-appointed and self-constituted, in sever the Cotton States from the American ! Union. What a contrast will be presented beloval States! Wherever "the flag of the free heart's only home" is floating and respected, the hearts of millions will be lifted with thankful praise to the God of hattles for the brillismt victories he has assured to the loyal armics struggling for the prescryation of our glorious heritage of popular government; every eyu will hear with confident hope of groater glories hereafter and the fical croshing out of this disgraceful rehellieu. In Richmond, on the contrary, there will be assembled a crowd of disco-nfied conspirators, men with hands riceking fa the blood of their brothers or filled with hooty stolen from the helpless and unsuspecting. To what God shall they pray and on what shrine offer their sacrifices when they have the brand of fentricido upon their brow, publican liberty? While they are offering their congratulations to Jeff Davis, they will start guiltily at every noise in apprehension that the thunders of untional vengenuce aro about to drown tho lip service of their adulation. Driven to desperation, tied to the stake, girt in on every side hy tho soldiers of tho Union, they have left them only the resonree of Sardanapalus to make their leaguered copital their funeral pyre. When the hollow shout arises which proclaims Davis the President of the Confederate States, it will be re echoed hack in derision from aix hundred thousand freemen in arms, who are on the track of tho the memory of Washington. But we do not care to further paint this painful picture of delusion, treachery, and indictiveness. The dark cloud has its brilliant silver lining, and to that wo gladly turn. The hearty eclobration of this day by every oyal man and the hollow pagennt to be enprobable results of Union, the great centripoworkings of each are now forever fixed upon the faithful page of history. The Union was the work of devoted, self-denying sages and hooes; of Washington, Franklin, Henry, Huncock, and Adams, and it has given to our ro- have none left for the defence. public in lustry, enterprise, security, hope. prosperity, wealth, intelligence, refinement and public and private happiness. Disunion was the attempted work of erafty, unscrupuous, and selfish offico-hunters; of Davis, floyd, Yancey, Breckinridge, Wiso, and Buckner, and it has given idlences, apachy, ear, despair, desolation, hankruptcy, ignoance, rnflianism, and mantled the land with s the "thunder bird of Jovo," fearless and deant and confident in his strength, forever winging his imperial flight abovo ho tempest and drinking in glad sunshing and the pure hreezes of heaven. Of the other alations. How beautifully appropriate will hut, as they approached, he-shifted. the shining constellation of stars, everyescuting the sisterhood of States on our ional flag; but no star can rightly repre nt the rebel Confederacy, envo Wormwood e halefal star of the Apocalypse, revolving in orbit, but rushing wildly through the sky: A waodering mass of chapiless flame.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY. - The Sunday Schools of Fourth and Walnut and Graveon and Elaventh streets (Christian Church) celebrate

Washington's birthday this evening at half past 7 o'clock, in the large Hall of Masonic Templs. The programme for the occusion is replete with interest, consisting of orations, dialogues, conversations, poems, and patriotic songs. "The Wanderer," an original piece, will be represented by eleven young ladies.

Miss Woodman, of the Institute for the Blind, has prepared the musical programme, and many of the pupils of that Institute will take part in the songs on the occarion.

We anticipate a rich treat, and advise all to go early and procure seals. No tickots are issued for admission, but a collection will be taken up to defray expenses. THE BINTHDAY CELEBRATION,-The Mayor and Committee of Arrangements respectfully invite all military and civil Government officers members of the Legislature, charitable societies, and other associations to participate in the ceremeuies at the court-house on the anniversary of Washington's birthday.

The members of the Legislature who wish to jain in the procession to-day are requested to report themselves to the Mayer at his office at nine o'clock this merning.

To BE REPEATED. -The Committee of man againent have gained the consent of the company of ladies and gentlemen who took part in the entertainment of Tnesday night to announce a repetition for next Tuesday, the 25th, at the same hour and place. The time is too short to arrange a new programme, and the only change will be the substitution of "Mr. Bumble's Courtship" and "Mr. Bumble after Mirrlage" for "Blind Bartha."

We are gratified to annonne, that, at the nrgent solicitations of the Committee, Mrs. Jarley has consented to repast the exhibition of her famous WAX STATBARY.

In the great rush on Tuesday night, many persons could not hund their tickets to 11 a doorkeeper as they passed into the hall. THE CENTRAL ADVANCE. - We learn that Gen. Buell, who has taken command in person on the line of the railroad, had advanced yesterday within ten miles of Nashville. We are unadvided as to the resources of the rebels for making a sland at that point, where Gen. A. Sidney Johnston is in command, hat we cannot conceive that their routed, dispirited, and damoralized troope can withstand our soldiers flashed with recent victories. We think the capital of Tennames will soon be relieved from the rebel voke. It would be a glorious commemoration of this day to capture that, the last foothold of treson in the
